

Kentuckian's Business Men's Contest

IN Tuesday's Kentuckian will be presented a number of advertisements of responsible Hopkinsville business houses. In each advertisement there is an engraving which represents the photo of some one member of each firm or company taking part in this contest. Each picture is in the wrong Ad. You are asked to cut out the pictures and place them where they belong. To illustrate—T. L. Metcalfe, Florist and Launderer, has an advertisement in these pages. Somewhere among the advertisements will be found the picture of Mr. T. L. Metcalfe. After you have located his picture, cut it out and paste or pin it to the advertisement of his Greenhouses. If you are successful in arranging the complete list of pictures appearing on the five pages set apart for the contest, the Kentuckian will reward you.

FOR YOUR SKILL IN SOLVING THE PUZZLE, THE JUDGES WILL AWARD PRIZES AS FOLLOWS:

To the person sending in the best prepared, neatest and most correct list, - - - $10.00
To the Second best solution an award of - - - 5.00

SPECIAL PRIZE to the Lady preparing the most attractive list not awarded a cash prize, an order on T. L. Metcalfe for Cut Flowers to the extent of $3.00.

Should no full correct list be received, the awards will be made to the persons having the largest number correctly arranged. In case of a tie, the awards will be equally divided. A correct list will have preference over all others.

THE SIMPLEST WAY to go about solving the puzzle is to first cut out each advertisement and then cut from each advertisement the picture which appears in it. Then paste each advertisement on a piece of paper and find the picture that belongs in this advertisement and paste or pin it in the space provided for the purpose just over the name of the party representing his firm, that is printed in each advertisement.

RULES OF CONTEST

FIRST—Everybody may participate in this contest except employees of the Kentuckian and their families. All others are invited to compete without money or price.

SECOND—Use blank sheets of paper and paste or pin the two parts of each advertisement together.

THIRD—All answers must be mailed or sent to the Kentuckian office, by 4 p. m. Tuesday, April 21, 1914.

FOURTH—Successful contestants will be announced in the Kentuckian Thursday, April 23, 1914.

FIFTH—All answers must be addressed to the Contest Department, Kentuckian, Hopkinsville, Ky.

TOTAL AWARDS IN THE CONTEST $33.00.

Fiscal Court Makes Levy To Purchase Lot For It.

ROAD MATTERS TAKEN UP.

Active Campaign In Road Improvement Under New Road Engineer.

The Fiscal Court transacted some very important business at its meeting this week. Besides the monthly routine matters attended to, the County levy was fixed and the year's work on public roads planned and steps taken to make it a busy year.

The matter of establishing a tuberculosis district in Christian county was acted upon favorably. This question was voted upon last fall and some months ago the court assured a committee of the H. B. M. A., appointed to wait upon it, that the matter would be considered at the April meeting. The court is fixing the levy set aside one-half cent on each $100 of assessed property to create a special fund to buy a site and erect and equip a building. This is expected to raise about $600. This amount will of course have to be supplemented by other funds and donations. The one-half cent is taken from the road and bridge fund. The law requires that the action be reported to the State Tuberculosis Association, which has a voice in selecting the site.

The tax levy was continued at 50 cents on the $100 divided as follows: Tuberculosis Sanitarium..... 5 Roads and Bridges..... 23.5 General Fund..... 10.3 Sinking Fund 1901 Bonds..... 4.7 " " R. R. "..... 3.5 " " 1907 "..... 5.8 " " 1910 "..... 1.7

Total..... .50
The poll tax is again fixed at $1.50 for general purposes and $1 for each person subject to being warned to labor on the county roads.

For public schools tax outside of graded school districts is 20c on the $100 and a poll tax of $1.

J. H. Dillman, road engineer, was directed to advertise for bids for working county roads, the voting district being made the road district. Bids are to be received up to April 20, when the court will meet to consider the bids.

Allen Nuckolls made an offer to pay $250 of the cost of building 700 yards of pike on the Cox Mill Road near his farm and his proposition was accepted and the pike ordered. A gap of 150 yards on the Johnn's Mill Road was ordered filled in.

A large crowd of Democratic voters attended the debate at Dixon Monday between Judge J. W. Henson and D. H. Kincheloe, candidates for congress.

GUESTS WERE MADE ILL

By Ptomaine Poison In Salad At The Hail-Fugate Wedding.

Many of the guests at the elaborate supper served Wednesday night after the wedding of Miss Mary Lucy Fugate and Elmo Hail of Nashville, at the bride's home in Adairville, were made ill by ptomaine poisoning. There were about fifty persons at the table and all who ate tomato salad were poisoned. Every doctor in the vicinity was kept busy during the night. None of the victims was seriously affected. Miss Alice Radford and George Lackey, of this city, who were among the attendants, Miss Radford was slightly ill, but Mr. Lackey did not eat the salad.

The bride is the daughter of M. L. Fugate, the Adairville banker, and Mr. Hail is a son of Eustice A. Hail of Nashville.

Mr. Eustice Hail and Mr. Charles H. Weakley, who were members of the Nashville party, were the only ones to feel any ill effects.

Four people at Dresden, Tenn., were bitten by a mad dog, before it was finally killed.

METHODIST REVIVAL

Will Come To a Close At Tomorrow Night's Service.

SPECIAL EASTER SERMON.

Church Has Been Greatly Revived And The Membership Increased.

The revival at the Methodist church continues with sustained interest. In spite of the absence of the song evangelist, the congregations have increased in size, and Mrs. Foster and her faithful choir are doing most efficient service.

A large number of adults have been received into the church during the progress of the meeting and a class of children are being instructed by the pastor for reception Sunday morning.

Very helpful service has been rendered during the week by Rev. R. F. Hayes and Rev. Virgil Elgin. The people have greatly enjoyed their ministry of the word. The song leader, Rev. Mr. Lear, greatly endeared himself to the congregation as a most efficient worker, preacher and Christian gentleman.

The pastor, Mr. Kasey suggests that as far as possible those attending the Easter service Sunday morning wear a suitable flower as an emblem of their faith in the risen Lord and as a token of affection for departed loved ones. There will be special Easter music at this service and the sermon will be in keeping with the spirit of the day.

There will be services tonight at 7:30 and the revival meeting will close Sunday night. A cordial invitation to all of these services is extended to everybody.

MADE THE PROFESSOR GASP

New York Scholar Probably Will Frame Check Received for High-Class Literary Work.

A New York professor of languages is wondering these days how writers ever manage to make a living out of literature.

Some months ago he was asked by the compilers of a new encyclopedia to contribute an essay on the Sanskrit language, condensing all possible information on the subject into a few brief paragraphs.

He decided that, for such a work as an encyclopedia, he must be very sure of his data, so he looked up some reference books he wanted, could not find them, and sent to Europe for them, at the expense of $15.

Then he wrote his thesis. But when it was finished he realized that it was far beyond the allotted space.
It took him nearly a week to perform the hard task of boiling down his manuscript without cutting out important items. Finally he was able to turn in the fruit of his labors in the required form.

A few days since he received a courteous letter of thanks from the editors, who complimented him on his masterly contribution and were pleased to inclose a check in full payment.

The bountiful remittance amounted to $125!

GREAT ACTOR DIDN'T SCORE

Question Whether Joke in This Case
Was on Booth or the Critic Who "Roasted" Him.

Edwin Booth was a great actor.
That is universally conceded. Mr.
Booth, however, never gained any laurels as mimic, if we are to believe a story told of him many years ago in the West.

It was on the occasion of a benefit given to Junius Brutus Booth.

A well-known actor was giving imitations of theatrical celebrities, and in his repertoire was an impersonation of Booth delivering the soliloquy from "Hamlet."

The tragedian suggested imitating himself, and, hastily donning the necessary habiliments, he went on and delivered the well-known lines, the audience naturally inferring it was the character actor whom they were looking upon.

On the following day the newspaper stated that the "Booth imitation" was vile; so bad, in fact, that had Mr. Booth himself witnessed it, it would have made him very sad to know what a bad actor he really was.

ODD NAMES OF KAFIR "BOYS"

Varied and Ingenious Appellations Taken by Those Who Do Domestic Work for The Whites.

Most of the "domestic" work in South Africa is done by the Kafirs, who are called "boys," no matter what their age may be.

When the Kafir boys come from the kraals no one ever uses their native names. As soon as they are brought into contact with the whites they take a "white" name. This produces results not lacking in the elements of humor.

Among the house boys "Knife,"
"Fork" and "Spoon" are common names. "Table," "Chair," "Carriage," "Watch" and "Matchbox" are others more infrequently used.
There is of record one boy who took the utilitarian name of "Ham and Eggs."

The Kafirs are very fond of rice when they learn to eat it among the whites, and one stable boy thought he had found the finest name in the world in "Rice."

In some respects the Kafirs are the cleanest people in the world.
They are forever scrubbing themselves in hot water and anointing themselves with oil afterward. But the habit does not extend to their clothes. They will take an elaborate bath and then don clothes that never saw the washtub.

GOOD ROADS

GOOD ROADS DURING WINTER

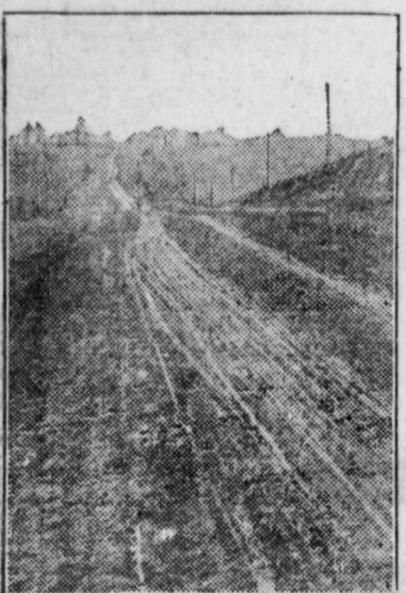

School Districts and Neighborhoods Can Do a Little Community Work From Time to Time.

In every community having dirt highways the roads are usually better in late autumn than at any other time in the year.

We ought to try to keep them that way, says a Missouri writer in the Farm Progress. We can do so by individual efforts. School districts and neighborhoods can do a little community work from time to time through the winter and the roads will be good at least until the deep thaws next March.

I know how it is in a good many neighborhoods. If there is one man who gets the road-dragging fever and works a few days now and then on the highway, the rest of the community looks on. Finally the lone worker gets disgusted. He has reason to when there is no co-operation.

Last fall seven of us living along one of the county seat highways managed to keep up our interest nearly all winter. We hitched to the road drag every chance we got. One man was plowing about a mile down the road from his house. Instead of riding back and forth in a wagon, he hitched his team to the road drag, making two round trips of a two-miles each every day. That road was in excellent shape nearly all winter. It is still one of the best pieces of highway in the county with the exception of the metalled roads.

South of here a few miles the merchants in a little town resorted to a dozen different plans to get the farmers to keep dragging the roads last winter. They made price reductions to the men who drove into town pulling road drags. The farther the drags had come the more the reductions. They advertised these plans extensively, gained a good deal of trade, had a steady trade all winter because of the good roads and the whole community was benefited by better transportation facilities.

It is remarkable how many miles of road a man can drag who gives some thought and just a little time to keeping the highways in good shape. No matter how badly "cut up" the highway may be if the surface is soft the road drag will smooth it down wonderfully. There was hardly a week last winter when every one of the seven men who formed the agreement failed to drag five or six miles of the highway.

Where the school is lively and vigorous there is always a chance of getting up some road-dragging enthusiasm there. Every man in the neighborhood is interested in the school; that the women are interested goes without saying. Good roads all winter mean a better attendance. A meeting most any Friday afternoon at the schoolhouse ought to result in a good many miles of dragged road the next day.

KEEP THE STRAIGHT ROADS

Department of Agriculture Advocates Building Highways Around Hills Instead of Over Them.

The United States department of agriculture is advocating the plan of building roads around hills instead of over them. From the road builders' standpoint this is a simple way to avoid expensive grading. From the practical standpoint it will never do, except perhaps in a few exceptional cases. The straight section line roads give the farmer rectangular fields, which are worked with the minimum of inconvenience. A triangular field, or one odd shaped in any way, greatly increases the labor of almost every field operation. Added to this inconvenience of farmers is the danger to road users from curves in these days of rapidity moving automobiles. The only practical way to do away with hills in the roads is to cut through them.

Coarse Feed for the Cow. Give the cow all the coarse feed she will eat, such as roots, silage and forage. Then grain one-fourth to one-third of a pound per day as she gives milk. This method insures that the cow gets enough to eat, yet not so much concentrates as to injure her.

NOT IN SAME SOCIAL CLASS

Example of Snobbery That Should Bring Smile From Even the Unappreciative.

The late Barton Willing, while a member of one of Philadelphia's most aristocratic families, detested snobishness, and nothing offended him more than the cruel snubs that the aristocratic world is prone to offer to such as it deems climbers.

"These society leaders who go about administering snubs and insults," Mr. Willing once said at the Rittenhouse club, "remind me of Greens."

"Greens ran a little grocery in South Seventh street. He was tremendously proud of it, though it was in reality a wretched hole. He used to stride up and down in front of it all day with his nose in the air and his chest puffed out.

"A humble hod carrier passing Greens one morning, said affably:

"How are you, Mr. Greens? It look as if we'd have some rain, don't it?"

"We'd" snorted Greens. "We'd? Since when, young man, have you and I been partners?"

Her Future Is Safe.

"Judge Ben Lindsey says of his new wife: 'She's beautiful; she has a wonderful mind; she's a fine housekeeper; she's interested in humanity; she's the perfect woman.'"

"Yes, and he'll say the same ten years hence if they are both living."

"How do you know?"

"I have seen their pictures."

"And you mean to tell me that you could read all that in her face?"

"Not in her face, in her height. She's bigger than the judge."

The Reason Why.

"Father says he's going to kill a pig, and can you use a side of pork?"

"Yes, my boy," said the postmaster. "Tell him to send it as soon as he can."

A week passed away, and as the meat had not arrived the postmaster reminded the boy of his order.

"I expect you forgot to tell your father, you young rascal," said the former, good humoredly.

"Oh, no, sir, I didn't," said the youngster. "My father hasn't killed the pig."

"How's that, Tommy?"

"It got better."

Oh, Those Husbands!

Mrs. Guggins—My husband is the laziest man on earth.

Mrs. Guggins—Dear me! I wonder if he is lazier than Mr. Guggins.

Mrs. Guggins—Indeed he is. Why, he even ordered soft coal for the furnace, because he thought it would be easier to shovel than hard coal!

No Hindrance.

Student—Would you, perhaps, buy this Greek dictionary?

Antiquary—I am sorry, but I buy only whole libraries.

Student—Just so. This book is the whole of my library.—Fliegende Blätter.

IN THE MUSEUM.

Assistant Manager—The "Strong Man" won't be able to work today.

Manager—No; he tried to lift a cake his wife baked and strained his back.

Mean Man.

"This is a beautiful book," said Mrs. Gabb. "This philosopher claims marriage is a remedy for loneliness."

"It isn't a remedy," replied Mr. Gabb. "It is a counter irritant."

Quite Common.

"I found a case of auto suggestion in that family."

"Insanity in the case?"

"No; the young ones want their law to buy them a motor car."

Highway Improvement

NORTH CAROLINA GOOD ROADS

Improved Thoroughfares Tend to Prosperity of Farmers and Saving of Time Is Considerable.

(By N. BUCKNER.)

Throughout the mountain region of western North Carolina the good roads sentiment has attained proportions and gathered such impetus as to sweep aside objections to expenditures for good roads, which is usually the case in all progressive movements of great moment. The movement had its inception in Asheville, North Carolina, when the Asheville and Buncombe County Good Roads association was organized by a few public spirited men who realized the loss to this beautiful mountain country by reason of lack of good roads which made it impossible for not only the people of this section, but the tourists and visitors from going from one point to another.

Immediately after the organization of this association, it raised $5,000 by subscription and regraded and macadamized the road from Asheville to Biltmore, a distance of a little more than two miles. This one piece of work in itself demonstrated to the citizens that good roads could be built in the mountains and it stimulated all thinking citizens to further effort.

At the present time, macadam and sand clay roads have been and are being actively constructed throughout the entire "Land of the Sky" region in western North Carolina, there already being hundreds of miles of splendid hard surfaced roads winding about the mountains, across hills and valleys from one section to another. The immediate territory surrounding Asheville is covered with a veritable network of good roads which are of the greatest benefit to the farmers of the country and to the business people of the city, and of especial delight to the throngs of visitors both winter and summer to this most delightful all the year around resort.

Adjoining counties have caught the spirit and forces may be found building macadam and sand clay roads in all sections. charming and delightful summer resort; and from that point south to the Polk county line across Saluda mountain to Spartanburg, South Carolina, connecting with the national highway to Atlanta. This road is the inlet and outlet for automobiles visiting in the "Land of the Sky," many hundreds of which are here during the year. The enterprising citizens of Polk and Henderson counties are regrading and rebuilding the road up Saluda mountain, giving a much easier grade than the present road, which, however, is easily negotiable.

Jewel Thief's Clever Idea.

A noted jewel thief was in the habit of boldly entering hotels in the West end of London, carrying under his arm a small parcel containing a soft cheese. Quickly marching upstairs, he would enter the rooms that were not at the time being occupied, pilfer any articles of jewelry that were lying about on the dressing tables, bury them in the cheese, and return the way he had come. In this manner he appropriated no less than £6,000 worth of jewels within twelve months.

WAR SCENE IN HOPKINSVILLE.

Ruins of the Christian Co Court House. Dec 1861

W. G. Redmond, a veteran of the Union army that occupied Hopkinsville about the time that Gen. H. B. Lyon dashed in and burned the court house in the fall of 1864, is in town for the first time since he was here as a soldier nearly 48 years ago. He called on the officials about the court house yesterday and said he remembered when the building was a pile of bricks. The picture here given was taken while the building was in ruins, by Mr. E. L. Fouks, then a photographer, who is still living in Hopkinsville. Many old citizens remember the event Mr. Redmond recalls. He says he will stay here for some time.

GRAVE CONCERN
AT WASHINGTON

Aroused By Villa's Expulsion
Of Spaniards—Sharp Representations Made.

Washington, April 10.—Vigorous representations went from the American Government to Gen. Carranza, the Constitutional chief, urging him to modify the order of Gen. Villa, expelling Spaniards from Torreon.

The situation is giving grave concern to authorities here. The United States has undertaken to extend to Spaniards in Mexico the same protection it affords Americans resident there, and Ambassador Rian was assured that nothing will be left undone to assure for the unfortunate at Torreon every right to which they are entitled under international law and usage.

Spain proposes to exhaust every resource to protect her people, it was made plain when Rear-Admiral Mayo at Tampico cabled the Navy Department that the commanding officer of the British cruiser Hermione had been instructed to care for Spaniards at that port. Officials here did not comment on this development.

The State Department, as well as the Spanish embassy here, is embarrassed in dealing with the Torreon situation by a lack of exact information as to the extent of the expulsion decree and how far it has been executed. It is understood Villa, in a public speech, told the Spaniards of Torreon they were to be deported en masse, that a commission would be appointed to examine into each individual case, and that such of them as could establish the fact that they have rendered no aid to Huerta would be permitted to return.

The gravity of the problem has been increased by unofficial but credible information that this policy of expulsion of the Spaniards is to be of general application; that as rapidly as the Constitutionalists extend their control they intend to drive out the Spaniards and seize their property.

An attempt to carry out such a plan would meet with determined opposition from the United States Government. Officials say the Spaniards are in Mexico under the provisions of treaty conferring the right of residence, trade and travel and anything like a sweeping deportation under these circumstances would be in violation of the principles of international law, and would form a proper subject of resentment by the Spanish Government, even to the extent of hostile measures if need be.

FIRES A MISSLE AT JUDGE'S HEAD

"General" Mrs. Drummond Acts In Unladylike Manner In London Police Court.

London, April 10.—Pandemonium reigned in Marlborough Street Police Court when "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, the militant suffragette, was brought up again and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or go to prison for two months for creating a disturbance in Hyde Park during the Unionist rally on Saturday.

Mrs. Drummond was so violent that three policemen had to pinion her and remove her hat pins before the Magistrate found opportunity during a pause to pronounce sentence.

The "General" vehemently declared that she would never pay the fine. She was forcibly removed to a cell.

All the time Mrs. Drummond was in court she kept up a fierce struggle with the police and warders, and shrieked denunciations. Even a sister militant suffragette was the victim of a verbal attack because she did not storm the prisoners' enclosure and rescue the "General."

Seizing a policeman's metal whistle, Mrs. Drummond flung it at the Magistrate's head, but he dodged the missile.

Taking advantage of the diversion Mrs. Drummond sprang from the enclosure, but was carried back shouting and struggling.

Later, however, when she had become calmer Mrs. Drummond was released, as either she or some one else had paid her fine.

Growing Children and Study.

As soon as a child begins to grow rapidly all intellectual exertion should be checked. Such is the theory which Dr. C. Especially when there is any family tendency to nervous or mental disorder, rapidly growing children should be withdrawn from school altogether until the period of rapid growth is over.

All character studies are made up in full view of the audience with an interesting introduction of each.

Mr. Landon's work is peculiarly adapted to the needs of the present-day lyceum platform. While it supplies in the fullest measure the constantly increasing demand for novelty, it possesses in addition to its universally conceded artistic excellence, an innate dignity, grace, and refinement, and has all the fun and variety with the necessary merit to make it worth while.

Passionate Paragraphs That Will Be Familiar to Most Readers of Light Literature.

His voice as he turned toward her was taut as a tie-line.

"You don't love me!" he hoarsely, thick with agony. She had angled onto a seat and sat sensing rather than seeing him.

For a time she silenced. Then presently, as he still stood and enveloped her:

"Don't!" she thinned, her voice fainting to a thread.

"Answer me," he gloomed, still gazing into and through her.

She half heard and half didn't hear him.

Night was falling about them as they sat thus beside the river. A molten afterglow of iridescent softness shot with incandescent carmine lit up the waters of the Hudson till they glowed like electrified uranium. For a while they both sat silent glooming.

"It had to be," she glumped.

"Why, why," he barked, "why should it have had to have been or (more probably) even be to be? Surely you don't mean because of money?"

She shuddered into herself.

The thing seemed to sting her (it hadn't really).

"Money!" she almost but not quite moaned. "You might have spared me that!"

He sank down and grased.

And after they had sat thus for another half-hour grassing and growling and angling and sensing one another, it turned out that all he was trying to say was to ask if she would marry him.

And, of course, she said yes.—Life.

She—Yes; but marriage doubles your troubles.

WHEN THE WIND BLOWS.

When the wind is blowing at 10 miles an hour it is a pleasant breeze; at 20, a brisk wind; at 30, a high wind; at 40, a very high wind; at 50, a storm; at 70, a great storm; at 80, to 100, a hurricane. The wind that destroyed Galveston some years ago blew at the rate of 84 miles an hour, with a force of 35,000 pounds per square foot.

POSSIBLE SOUVENIR.

"I had something to say to that matinee idol, but the girls mobbed him and he was almost torn to pieces."

"Well, did you get his ear?"

EXPRESSION.

"That Mexican general's pictures make him look terribly fierce."

"That isn't fierceness. That's the facial expression everybody gets just after eating chile con carne."

TO BE EXACT.

He—People are saying that you only married me because I had money.

She—Nonsense! The reason was that I had no money myself.

HE KNEW IT.

"The art of oratory, huh! I've made a thousand speeches and I never studied oratory."

"I know you didn't. I heard one of your speeches."

THE RETREAT.

Anna—Didn't she have a troop of lovers fighting for her?

Edna—Yes, but they all beat a retreat.—Judge.

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME.

Harley (just arrived)—Gee, but the air in this flat is dopey, Clara.

Mrs. Harley—Maybe it's due to the steam hitting the pipe.—Puck.

She Broke Down Entirely.

Lantz, W. Va.—Mrs. Tebe Talbot, of this place says, "I had been troubled with womanly ailments for some time, and at last I broke down entirely. I got so weak I could scarcely walk across the room. Thanks to Cardui, I improved right off. Now I do my housework, and am feeling well." During the past 50 years, more than a million women have been benefitted by taking Cardui. You must believe that Cardui will help you, too, since it helped all these others. Cardui is a safe, harmless, vegetable remedy, of positive, curative merit, for women. At drug stores. Try one bottle. It will surely help you.

Good Hint.

Vermin of no kind will stay upon clothing that is scented with either oil of cloves, oil of cinnamon, anise oil, or cedar oil. This is a valuable secret for the traveler, for a small bottle will protect him from the vermin often found in hotel beds. No bedbug will venture between sheets so scented and a few drops is all that is required.

For Rent.

Bathing for Elderly Persons.

Provided their general health is good, elderly persons derive great benefit from bathing. At least two baths a week in water that is neither too hot nor too cold restores elasticity and smoothness to the skin, loosens the tissues and makes the limbs rounder and plumper.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. WORKING ON MAP OF WORLD Gigantic Task Participated in by the Leading Geographers of All Nations.

In 1900 a movement was begun looking to the preparation of a map of the world on a millionth scale, equal to fifteen miles to the inch. Such maps have already been made for some countries, particularly England and Scotland, but a map of the world on such a scale is an immense undertaking, and as such the different nations of the world were asked to co-operate in its production. The first conference was held in London four years ago, and another international conference, participated in by government delegates of thirty-two countries, has been in session in Paris. Specimen sections of the map were presented at the conference and further details of organized or international team work were gone over. As the first map on such a scale and one requiring years for its completion and co-ordination of work in practically all the civilized countries of the world, the map will not only be the greatest ever constructed, but it will record the present status of geographical science as well.

Wood's Laxative Mineral Water.

Well Recently Bored 137 Feet Deep, Situated One Mile West of Hopkinsville.

ANALYSIS OF WATER.

By Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.: One gallon contains 323.6 grains, of solid matter (5.53 grams per liter) composed mainly of sodium chloride (common salt), sodium sulphate (Glauber's salt), with small amount of calcium sulphur, calcium carbonate, magnesium carbonate and sodium sulphide. Hydrogen sulphide free and combined is present to the extent of 5.0 grains per gallon. There are traces of sodium iodide and sodium bromide, iron, silica, potassium and lithium salts. There is a salt-sulphur water and would doubtless have a laxative effect in addition to the other properties of a sulphur water.

S. D. AVERITT, Chemist.

The following testimonial is submitted, with signatures:

"I have used Wood's Laxative Mineral Water and it has benefited me more than any water I have ever drunk."

A. A. Charlton, G. T. Herndon, J. B. Littlefield, Frank Wright, Mrs. J. B. Littlefield, F. Wilkins, E. H. Major, Mrs. F. Wilkins, Walter McCord, Mrs. M. H. Wood, L. J. Harris.

On and after April 4 this water will be on sale at J. O. Cook's drug store, where orders can also be taken for any quantity.

Water will be delivered to any part of the city by wagon twice a day.

MEMBER OF WASHINGTON'S SENATORIAL SET

One of the most prominent and delightful members of Washington's senatorial set is Mrs. Albert B. Fall, wife of the senator from New Mexico.

Southern by birth, she seems more a westerner. Tall, slender, she has a quiet forcefulness which makes it itself felt without a sense of obstruction.

She exemplifies the woman who is capable of helping those she comes in contact with to do big things.

And in the case of her husband she has seen him rise from an untried lawyer to one of the ablest in his state; from a member of the legislature to the associate justiceship of the supreme court of New Mexico, on to the attorney generalship, and now to the United States senate. And through all that time she has had faith in him
—the faith that makes a man ashamed not to accomplish things. To subjects that may affect her husband and four children, help them or interest them she is keenly alive—but beyond that Mrs. Fall finds time for little.

It is not difficult to find a woman who says she believes a wife should be a helpmate to her husband. The difficulty lies in finding one who lives up to the statement. Mrs. Fall does.

When asked the direct question as to woman's ability to help her husband, Mrs. Fall admitted it could be done, but there were conditions.
"A woman can do much in inspiring her husband, and can help him. She is sure to be of use to him if she takes an active, intelligent interest in his work."

That has been her motto, with emphasis on the intelligent, and as a result, it is safe to say that few have been the cases handled by Senator
Fall of which she was ignorant.

COLORADO FARM WOMAN'S BIG ACHIEVEMENT

A farm woman who lives in a cottage in the center of a cherry orchard in Colorado is president of the International Congress of Farm Women, which has 20,000 members in 28 nations. Mrs. Belle Van Dorn Har-bert was chosen president of this congress last summer at Ghent, Belgium. She went to the congress not expecting any honors at all. She had organized the farm women of her neighborhood in Colorado into a society that was an auxiliary to the dry farmers' congress in Colorado Springs three years ago, the idea being to work together to try to make life easier and brighter for the women of the farms. After she formed this society she learned that some women in other countries were working to the same end. In Germany there was a large organization of farm wives, and it had affiliated with other organizations of the same kind in other countries, and all of them had united into the International Congress of Farm Women.

Just before she departed for the congress in Belgium she pruned with her own hands 1,000 cherry trees on her farm near Manzana, and then she packed her trunk and went.

In that congress were women delegates from Canada, Ireland, Scotland, England, Spain, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, South Africa, Australia, Hungary, Denmark, Servia, Colombia,
South America, Panama, Austria,
Switzerland, Poland and Russia.

The princess of Spain was there as a delegate and there were many other titled women, and women of distinction, but the majority of them were farmers' wives. The only woman from the United States was Mrs. Harbert.

Tradition represents the Indian as being indolent. I say that he is industrious. Among aboriginal Indians the labor of families was divided, as it is supposed to be divided among civilized people. The husband hunted, fished and went to war.

The wife remained at home, cooked the food of the family, and made such clothing as was customary to be worn.

"History is filled with the atrocities of the Indians. The records we have, however, were written by their white enemies. The fighting of civilized nations today is said to be much like the fighting of the savages which we look upon with horror. Scalping was in part a ceremony. Armies all over the world are now preparing to drop bombs from the air on their adversaries. The Maine was blown up in Havana. The scalping of a man already dead is, by comparison, a humane performance.

"There is no stealing here," Doctor Friedman went on to say. "There is no lying here. An Indian youth or an Indian girl is brave enough to tell the truth.

"The Indian is moral and instinctive.
This is a co-educational institution, in a sense, but we have less sex annoyances than would be the case were the students white. The Indian girl is modest. If marriage is uppermost in her mind she does not show it in her conduct.

GEN. VELASCO HAS ESCAPED

And effected a junction with General Hidalgo at Saltillo.

ARE FIGHTING AT TAMPICO.

New Reports of Villa's Outrageous Treatment of Foreigners.

El Paso, Texas, April 10.—Reports of oppressive treatment inflicted by Villa on H. S. Cunard-Cummins, acting British vice-consul at Torreon, of the defeat of a rebel column sent against San Pedro, and that the federal general, Velasco, had joined General Hidalgo at Saltillo, swelling the federal army to thirteen thousand men, were brought here by two newspaper correspondents from Torreon. Hidalgo, they said, was trying to reach Torreon with reinforcements when Velasco evacuated that city.

The correspondents said that while the sending of news from the front was not entirely prohibited, it was censored so severely as to be all but worthless. Villa, they said, compelled Mr. Cunard-Cummins to run the risk of carrying a demand for the surrender of Torreon to General Velasco, the trip being made under protest, and during which Mr. Cummins was fired upon.

Heavy fighting is going on at Tampico and there is a report that it has been captured by the rebels.

Heavy Losses at Tampico.

Washington, April 19.—Officials here are gravely anxious for the safety of foreign property in the Tampico district, where valuable oil plants already have been destroyed, and other properties, valued at millions, are threatened by Mexican constitutionalists and federal sheiks.

Dispatches today told of the burning of warehouses belonging to a German company, with a loss of half a million dollars, and of imminent danger to the immensely valuable plant of the Waters-Pierce Oil Refinery. This plant, the navy department learned today, has been occupied by attacking forces the past few days, and as a consequence shell after shell has been poured into it from federal gunboats in the harbor.

CHILDREN'S COLDS TREATED EXTERNALLY constantly, and our belief in its efficacy has grown. We have continued its use until in such cases we now rely entirely upon it, and have discarded the use of vapor lamps, internal medicines and everything of the kind." Sample on request.
